GENDER AND REPRESENTATION: MOTHERHOOD

GWST 3713 (D) | FALL 2018
T R 9-10:15 a.m.

This course focuses on gender relations, representation, and experiences of motherhood. We will consider the intersections of sexual identity, race, class, and nation in mothering issues; the embodied experiences of mothering; diverse representations of motherhood in popular culture; cultural and policy issues that shape the image and experiences of mothers and motherhood; social factors shaping women’s ability to choose motherhood.

Join us! This course fulfills a (D) credit and a GWST minor elective.

Instructor: Bridget Rebek, MPH, M.S.
bridget.rebek@okstate.edu
lucy.bailey@okstate.edu
www.womensstudies.okstate.edu